Education

Apprenticeship - Apprenticeship training combines work and academics in a formal program leading to journey person consideration.

- Formal training programs are registered with the United States Department of Apprenticeship/Office of Apprenticeship and the Veterans Administration.
- Programs meet all federal and state requirements for formal apprenticeship and prevailing wage work including employer-sponsored classroom instruction and on-the-job learning (OJL).
- ABC Training programs meet the guidelines of the National Center for Construction Education and Research (NCCER) standardized craft training process and utilizes NCCER's Contren Learning Series text material.
- Twenty Seven (27) Apprenticeship Programs available.

Craft Training - Same program as the ABC Apprenticeship Program above but without tracking on-the-job (OJL) learning hours.

Assessment Testing - Accredited Assessment Center providing all craft and pipeline assessment testing in written and performance based evaluations. Assessment testing can be used to evaluate entry level and journey-level knowledge and skills of experienced craft professionals .

Management Education - ABC has programs to elevate the skills and professionalism of managers from field staff to senior executives.

Continuing Education – ABC Heart of America Chapter is constantly looking for ways to help members keep pace with this ever-changing industry by offering continuing education classes. Classes are developed based on input from the membership as well as licensing requirements and code changes.
